Parent-Child Relationships: The Heart of Post-Permanency Success

Adoption Competent Mental Health · https://bridges4mentalhealth.org/hub/adoption-competence/27570892/

Parent-Child Relationships: The Heart of Post-Permanency Success

This resource highlights the central role of strong parent-child relationships in helping children who have experienced trauma, loss, and multiple placements achieve stability and well-being after permanency. The article emphasizes attachment, emotional regulation, and connection-focused approaches, including Trust-Based Relational Intervention® (TBRI®), and points to resources that support trauma-informed, relationship-based caregiving and healing.

Read more