Why NTI Training is Important for Mental Health Professionals

NTI · https://bridges4mentalhealth.org/hub/nti/why-nti-training-is-important-for-mental-health-professionals/

Summary: The National Adoption Competent Mental Health Training Initiative (NTI) was funded by the United States Children's Bureau to meet an unmet need of children, youth, and families impacted by the child welfare system. Debbie briefly outlines the value of mental health professionals completing this free training.

Application: This video can be used by child welfare systems as they work to build bridges with mental health systems to enhance the child welfare mental health competence of providers.

Source: National Adoption Competency Mental Health Training Initiative (NTI)

Read More