Promoting Peer Support in Child Welfare

Peer Support · https://bridges4mentalhealth.org/hub/peer-support/promoting-peer-support-in-child-welfare/

Peer support programs play a vital role in helping children and families, especially during times when children are separated from their parents. These programs connect individuals with peers who have shared experiences, offering understanding and support during challenging situations, such as navigating child welfare or caregiving. Despite their proven effectiveness, many peer support programs face challenges in accessing necessary funding and resources. As a result, grassroots efforts must rely on community resources and limited funding to assist families in need.

Read More